NAVAL BATTLE

Being Fought in the Corean Straits

THE RESULT NOT YET KNOWN

The Vladivostock Fleet Escapes From the Port

London, June 15th.—A despatch to the Central News from Tokio, filed on Wednesday morning, says: "A naval engagement is now in progress off Tsushima Island in the Corean Straits between three Russian cruisers which escaped from Vladivostock, and a number of Japanese ships."

"No details have yet been received. The Central News despatch adds that the Vladivostock squadron was reported on June 14th from Oki Island in the Sea of Japan. Later in the day cannonading was heard northwest of Nagatox on the Japanese coast in the Straits of Corea."

Tokio, June 15th.—10.30 a.m.—The Vladivostock squadron is reported in the Corean Straits. Firing has been heard on Tsushima Island lying off the southwest coast of Honshu Island. It is possible that the engagement is progressing.

Nagasaki, June 15th.—4 p.m.—A Russian naval squadron was later sighted off Okshima Ken and Yamaguchi Kee and sounds of firing, it is now stated, were heard yesterday off Oki Island.

Tokio, June 14th.—The entrance to the harbor at Port Arthur having been cleared of obstructions, is now open for the passage of ships in and out.

Yesterday the Russian protected cruiser Novik steamed out to sea and engaged with the vessels of the Japanese blockading fleet.

Tokio, June 14th.—Private advices have been received here from Katsumoto, a town on the north end of Oki Island to the effect that an engagement was in progress between the Japanese and Russian warships.

Nagasaki, June 15th.—A telegram received from Oki Island says that the Japanese warships have engaged Russian squadron near there. The result of the encounter between the Russian Vladivostock squadron and the Japanese squadron in the Corean Straits is not known but it is quite likely that the naval fight has occurred or is about to occur.

Vice Admiral Skrydoff has left Vladivostock with the armored cruisers Gromoboy, Russia and Rurik and some torpedo craft.

Paris, June 14th.—The Petit Journal has a despatch from Liao Yang, reporting that the Japanese lost a general in the fighting yesterday, and it is believed he was General Nodsen in command of the third Japanese army.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE TO-DAY

Carpenter Residing on Fourth Street Found in His Own House with His Throat Cut

Word was brought to the police station at noon today that a man named Bolton, a carpenter by trade, had attempted to commit suicide this morning by cutting his throat with a razor.

The unfortunate man is married and middle-aged, and with his wife, lives in a house on Fourth street near Kristino avenue.

About eleven o'clock Mrs. Bolton was alarmed to see blood running through the upper floor and heard a low, but still living, heavy fall in the room above. Two other men were in the house at the time and on investigation Bolton was found lying on the floor with deep gashes on either side of his neck.

Medical aid was on hand quickly and the sufferer made as comfortable as possible.

Owing to his weakness the unfortunate man was not removed from the house, a special constable being left to guard him.

At latest reports Bolton was very

Canadian Copyright Edition Mr. Winston Churchill's New Novel

"THE CROSSING"

588 pages, seven colored illustrations Cloth only $1.50.

The author puts into a picturesque story of the peaceful conquest of the great Louisiana territory the whole American spirit of a very critical period. It is fitting the year comes by this vigorous novel that the country proved the forthright value of the ideals created during the times of which "Richard Carvel" gave so convincing a picture.

The first chapters open with the days when the Carolinas were upon the frontier, and Andy Jackson was a red-haired boy, licker by the schoolmaster for fighting. They carry the hero, young Davy, over the Cumberland Mountains, to share the adventures of the famous leader and Indian fighter, George Rogers Clark.

IN FROM JASPER PASS

BY-LAW NO. 270

PIONEER RANCHER IN TOWN

Mr. Swift, Who Has a Ranch in that Remote Region in Edmonton for Supplies

Mr. W. Swift, rancher, came in from Jasper Pass on Tuesday for supplies and expects to get away tomorrow on the return trip.

ONE OF THE PIONEERS.

Mr. Swift has been one of the pioneers of the West. Coming originally from Ohio, he struck Colorado in '74, and since that time has been living on the frontier. About nine years ago he came north and went into the country near the Pass, intending to establish a ranch there, confident that some day a railway would annihilate the distance and place him in touch with the outside world. He now has a comfortable home in that far remote region and a considerable herd of horses and herd of cattle, being the only white rancher in the country. The distance from Edmonton is about three hundred miles and the trip ordinarily occupies from twelve to fourteen days. The present trip required fifteen days from the Pass to Lao Sie Anne, the trail being in bad condition from the McLeod river to town. Beyond the McLeod to the Pass very good travelling was found. The trip was made with pack horses to Lao Sie Anne and from there he brought only a saddle horse.

A SPLENDID COUNTRY.

Mr. Swift's ranch is located beyond the Jasper House at the old Henry House. This was one of the "caches" of the survey parties when laying out the original line for the Canadian Pacific Railway through the mountains, which line was intended to run westward from Edmonton through the Yellowhead Pass. Though located between the first and second ranges of the Rocky Mountains, the country around Henry House is well adapted to agriculture. Being in a dry climate, irrigation is necessary, but this is easily accomplished by utilizing the mountain streams. Last year was the first in nine years that the wheat has suffered from frost and Mr. Swift claims this was due to negligence in not getting the water turned on the grain early enough. This delayed growth and prevented the wheat ripening in time to escape the frosts of fall. As proof of this the grain located along the main irrigation ditch, which got the benefit of the water as soon as sown, was fine, plump and plentiful enough to provide seed for the present season. Flour is made from the wheat by means of a crusher. Vegetables of all kinds are grown of splendid quality and size.

The climate at the Pass is if anything milder than that at Edmonton. The chinook winds which are a feature of the climate of southern Alberta travel east and frequently take the snow from the ground in mid-winter. Last winter the snow was about a foot deep on the level.

The news that the Canadian Northern and the Grand Trunk Pacific were pushing their lines westward to the coast was naturally very gratifying to Mr. Swift. On the way in he met Mr. Jones' G. T. P. party, apparently en route to the Pass to explore the nature of the country.

He usually visits town once a year but it is over two years since he was last.

LUMBER FOR BATTLEFORD

D. L. Clink, of Battleford, is in town for a supply of lumber to take down to the eastern town.

He came up by trail, reaching here on Monday. He reports that at two places on the route, parties had fenced up the trail, forcing travellers to make a detour in one case and a deep water hole where it was necessary to unhook the horse to get out.

WHEREAS it is deemed expedient by the Municipal Council of the Town of Edmonton that the Municipality should acquire lands for the purposes mentioned in subsections 50 and 70 of Section 95 of the Municipal Ordinance (C.O. 1882, c. 70), namely; for the purpose of acquiring lands for obtaining gravel for municipal uses and for a nuisance ground for the purpose of disposing of the sewage and other refuse of the municipality.

And whereas it is expedient to enable the municipal council to raise, by the issue of Debentures, a sum not exceeding $8,000 to be expended for the purposes aforesaid.

And whereas it is expedient that the amount to be borrowed for the purposes aforesaid, if such authority be accorded, should be payable during the period of fifteen years from the date of the debentures to be issued therefor, and should bear interest at a rate not exceeding five per cent per annum and either (1) that the same should be repayable in such manner that each instalment of principal and interest shall be equal in each year of the said period of fifteen years; (2) that the principal shall be repayable at the end of fifteen years from the said date (provision being made for the repayment thereof by the creation of an equal annual sinking fund) and the interest annually.

3. During the currency of the said indebtedness there shall be raised annually by special general rate on all the ratable property in the municipality at the same time and in the same manner as the ordinary general municipality rates, and the amount so raised shall be applied to the amount of the annual instalment of principal and interest, or the amount of the equal annual sinking fund and the annual interest, as the case may be, payable in each year in respect of the said indebtedness.

THE RIVER ROUTE

IS SPOKEN HIGHLY OF
The Commissioner of Immigration
Discusses Alberta's Growth in Winnipeg

Free Press: "After a trip in the west but short by matters requiring his immediate return, the commissioner of immigration arrived in the city yesterday."

In his week's absence stops were made at Brandon, Qu'Appelle, Macleod, Claresholm, Calgary, Strathcona, Edmonton and Fort Saskatchewan, giving the commissioner an extended view of the crop and other conditions. Mr. Smith found all the crops in about the same satisfactory growth as they are in Manitoba, fall wheat in Southern Alberta showing best of any. East of Claresholm it measured 18 inches. The district south of Calgary has developed with marvellous rapidity. What was a treeless prairie two years ago given over to ranchers is now covered with new farms houses and crops for at least 18 miles east of the railway. One man has 2,000 acres in crop and is operating a steam plow and other machinery breaking an additional 4,000 acres. Mr. Smith met three different men who had paid for a half section of land out of last year's crop and did not wonder the tide of immigration seemed to be running more to Southern than to Northern Alberta during the present month.

All the towns between Edmonton and Macleod show surprising business enterprise and growth. At one point where two years ago there was nothing but a cattle loading platform is now a busy little town of 85 houses and stores by actual count. It is an indication of stability that the class of hotels is improving and in some places are now superior in comfort and appointments to hotels in Winnipeg.

While in the north he met members of the councils and boards of trade of Edmonton and Strathcona concerning several matters but the chief enquiry seemed to be, "Where are the 2,000 British colonists who were going by the Saskatchewan river route to Lloydsminster?" To this, the commissioner was obliged to say the department had no advice of any such party and preferred that settlers should come in parties much smaller than that.

Mr. Smith took an opportunity of investigating the arrangements for the transportation of settlers that way, and considers the council and board of trade at Edmonton have certainly done everything they could to ensure the safety and comfort of the passengers, who can now make the trip down to Fort Pitt in five days by the river. The storekeepers at Lloydsminster are stocking largely from Edmonton which may be accepted as additional evidence of the success of the all-British colony which by the way is now anxious to have Americans and Canadians amongst them as the department advised in the first instance.

The C. P. R. are putting their best coaches at the disposal of the travelling public and are rapidly improving the roads between Macleod and Strathcona. Yet the cry throughout the whole west is for more railways, competing railways, and plenty of outside capital to develop and open up the vast districts yet untouched. Railways they want and they want them pretty quick.

Railway News

From the Railway and Shipping World:

Trans-Canada Ry.—Application is being made at the current session of the Dominion parliament for an act authorizing the formal organization of the company as soon as $1,000,000 of its capital has been subscribed and $10,000 paid into a bank, and providing for the expenditure of $1,000,000 on the lines within four years.

British Columbia, Northern and Mackenzie Valley Ry.—A special session of the B. C. Legislature has been called to be held during the current month, the Premier states, mainly for the purpose of considering railway bills. The B. C. government proposes to submit for approval a bill providing for a subsidy for the construction of a railway projected by the B. C. N. and M. V. Ry. Co. One of the conditions of the granting of the subsidy is the deposit of $26,000 with the government as a guarantee.

Edmonton Street Ry.—Application is being made at the current session of the Dominion Parliament for an act authorizing the company to supply power for motive purpose, to deal in land, and for other additional powers.

We were recently advised by T. G. & Sons, of Montreal, with whom an agreement has been entered into by the town council, which holds the charter, that they were not in a position to give any definite information as to their plans of construction. At a meeting held at St. Albert, a representative of the company was present and stated that the line would be completed to St. Albert by November.

Grand View-Edmonton Extension.—A train service has been placed in operation on the completed portion of this extension as far as Kamsack, about 71 miles from Grand View. When work is resumed for the season on the main line from Grand View, Man., to Edmonton, Alta., the track-laying gang will have 57.5 miles of grade ready to get to work on. Ballasting on the 92.5 miles of track laid in 1903 will be completed, and station buildings, etc., gone on with. Two towns have sprung up on the line, one at Goose Lake, 30 miles west of Grand View, and the other at Pelly, about 20 miles further west. The present end of track is at White Sand river, directly north of Yorkton, Assin. Work has been progressing all winter on the abutments of the bridge over the South Saskatchewan river, about four miles from Osler, so as to have it ready for the builders of the superstructure. The work for the year for the further extension of the line had not been laid out, but W. Mackenzie, President, stated on his return to Toronto from London, England, recently that work would be pushed, and that as much as possible would be done this year. A contract has been let to J. D. McArthur for the grading of the line from the present end of grade to Edmonton, about 500 miles. Sub-contractors are reported to have been let to McDonald, MacMillan & Co., D. Cameron, J. Setar and M. McCrimmon for sections of this contract.

Sultan Ordered the Massacres

Constantinople, June 14.—Armenian patriarchs have received information that an irade has been issued by the Sultan which has resulted in the wholesale massacres and destruction of Armenian property.

The irade prohibits the settlement of Armenians in the villages destroyed. Two days were devoted to the massacres, May 16th and June 3rd. On these two days thirty-seven villages were destroyed and of the population of 50,000, two thousand and were massacred.

The women of the villages who disappeared during the massacres have been recovered by their husbands, but most of the girls have not been seen since.

Having sold my dental practice and seat, I wish to thank my numerous patients for their patronage in the past and ask them to continue their interest to extend the same to my successor as I consider they have no equals in the West and few superiors anywhere else. Dr. Lowther has been associated with me for some time here and in the East. If a brilliant college course in one of America's greatest dental schools is necessary, nothing could be better. I am fully qualified to practice dentistry in the West and have no hesitation in recommending Dr. Lowther and Robertson to my friends. Sincerely yours,

A. MACINTYRE, L.D.S. D.D.S.

In reviewing the general conditions of the country, Mr. Fielding drew attention to the buoyant conditions of trade in Canada under a moderate tariff, as compared to the depression in the United States, the most highly protected country in the world. The obvious inference was that high protection is not a panacea for commercial evils. He ventured to think that Canada would not falter in her march of progress, business conditions being sound, and the national spirit being hopeful and enterprising.

Mr. Fielding presented the usual number of comparative tables, illustrating the prosperity of the country. He noticed particularly the great improvement in the postal department, which, in spite of a reduction in postage, which Sir Charles Tupper had said was flinging away a million dollars' revenue, had converted a deficit of $700,997 in 1896, to a surplus of $292,690 in 1903.

He estimated the total revenue for the current year at $71,000,000, and the total expenditure at $54,000,000, the surplus therefore standing at sixteen and a half millions. While on the subject of surpluses he figured out the aggregate surplus of eight years of Liberal rule at $58,400,073. This, he announced, was an average surplus of $7,253,000 a year, as compared with $544,000 a year under the Conservative regime.

The Liberals had also reduced the national debt at the rate of $105,624 a year, as compared with an annual increase of $6,563,000 under the Conservatives. The debt per capita, which stood at $50.61 in 1896, is now $46.69.

After explaining a series of diagrams showing Canada's progress in various lines of thrift and industry, Mr. Fielding passed to the splendid prosperity of the Canadian Northwest. There are there 171,000,000 acres of land available for cultivation. If only one-quarter of this area was under wheat it could not only supply the British demand three times over, but the home market also, and have something left over for export to foreign countries. This calculation, Mr. Fielding pointed out, did not include the wheat production of the eastern provinces.

PREPARING FOR THE FAIR

The Exhibition Association have closed contracts for the attraction program for the fair, which promises to be one of the strong features, including trapze work, fancy bicycle riding, etc.

Applications for booth space are coming in rapidly and whereas last year no space was sold previous to June 17, this year ten or twelve spaces were gone by that time.

The large stables and poultry house are nearly completed.

The public hospital people are erecting a large dining hall and one will also be erected for the general hospital. The diamond is being worked into shape for the baseball tournament.

Rev. H. A. Grey will be the director in charge of Ladies' Work and Art.

MALONEY'S WEDDING

Maloney's Wedding Co. played to a fairly large and very appreciative audience in Robertson Hall last evening. The company were at a disadvantage in not having time to arrange their scenery and the play was late in starting.

The play was full of funny situations and kept the audience in a condition of boisterous hilarity throughout.

The specialties were very good.

The company repeat the performance in the hall this evening.

The Latest Kidnapping Case

From the Mail and Empire:

Raisuli, esquire, of Morocco, is a "dark-complexioned" gentleman, who is causing at least four governments a great deal of anxiety at the present time. He has stirred up United States officialdom that seven warships have been ordered to make a demonstration against him; Britain and France are thirsting for his capture and one cannot doubt that Sultan Mulay-abd-el-Aziz would gladly bestow the hand of his favorite daughter on anyone bringing him the shaggy head of Raisuli on a charger. Mr. Raisuli's method of winning international fame has been simple, not to say primitive. He simply captured two gentlemen and announced that he would hold them for ransom, mentioning the sum of $70,000 as fair price for his reluctant guests. As one of these gentlemen happens to be Cromwell Verley, a British subject, and the other Ion Perdicaris, a citizen of the United States, two governments became immediately concerned. France, claiming a protectorate over Morocco, was also interested, as well as Spain, which likewise exerts a sphere of influence there, while most agitated of all is the Sultan of Morocco. Meanwhile the cause of all the commotion remains in hiding, daily exchanging official communications with three of the greatest powers on earth, an honor never before won, perhaps, by a private individual.

At first blush the thing looks simple enough. The obvious thing seems to be to send a body of troops after Raisuli and rescue his prisoners. Bull-headed action of this sort is what occurred to the Washington authorities, but fortunately they reconsidered and decided on more diplomatic measures. Grave international complications might have ensued had American troops been landed in Morocco, for France would certainly have objected to such a step. Further, if an attempt to hunt down Raisuli should be made while his prisoners are in his power, their lives would surely pay the penalty. It will be remembered that Miss Stone, who was captured by Maccodian brigands three years ago, came very near death as a result of an attempt to rescue her. The only sensible thing to do is to pay the enterprising Raisuli the $70,000 he demands thus securing the safety of his captives. Then he can be hunted down and destroyed. Incidentally, the Sultan of Morocco can be obliged to return to Britain and the United States the amount of ransom, for the Sultan should be held responsible for his inability to maintain order in his own dominion.

It is said that the cleverest criminals make the stupidest blunders, and in Raisuli's case we find an error which is almost sure to cost him his life. Besides demanding the ransom, he has attached another condition to the release of Perdicaris and his son-in-law Verley. He demands that the Sultan shall give him authority to collect toll along the main road from Fez to Tangier; that he shall, in effect, make him a more powerful chief than he is. Unfortunately for himself Mr. Raisuli forgets that the more powerful he becomes, the more imperative it is for the Sultan to exterminate him. He is simply raising his head high enough to meet the club which is in readiness. A Sultan who sways his throne like Mulay will not be squeamish about breaking faith with a bandit like Raisuli. The chances of the kidnapper living to spend his $70,000 seem, at this distance, exceedingly remote.

At the same time Raisuli is not an amateur at his business, for only a year ago he held Mr. Harris, correspondent for the London Times, in captivity for six weeks, much to his own advantage. We are thus reminded that in some parts of the world kidnapping is a distinct art, and that it is cultivated by real artists. The skilful method of Miss Stone's capture and detention indicated unusual shrewdness on the part of the Macdonians. The guild of Moroccan brigands is a venerable one, and has produced some noted workmen. Moorish slavery was largely founded on the skill of abductors, and the centuries through which it flourished is some proof of the expertise of Moors in this peculiar branch of crime. Christians were carried off by the hundred every year, and the life history of some of the English friars who devoted themselves to the ransoming of these poor creatures should make a thrilling tale.

Of late years the most notorious brigands have been Sicilians, and in this island fastness kidnapping and outlawry may well be termed a science. One of the more recent victims of a Sicilian brigand was Rev. Mr. Rose, an Englishman, who was captured within a mile of the railway station of Lecce. He was carried to the mountains, and a demand for $25,000 ransom was issued. Mr. Rose's friends delayed the matter, and as a result his wife received a box containing one of Mr. Rose's ears. A further delay resulted in the receipt of another ear. Then the British Government stepped in and paid the ransom, which it demanded from the Italian authorities. Probably the most distinguished British victim of foreign brigands were Lord and Lady Muncaster, Mr. Vyner and Mr. Lloyd, who were captured near Athens in 1870. The sum of $250,000 was asked for their release, and the release of several other English people who were with them. Before the money was paid four of the party had been murdered. That same year Spanish brigands carried off the Bonnels, near Gibraltar, and received $15,000 for their release.

Espozito, the captor of Mr. Rose, fled to the United States after his band had been broken up, and was selling fruit in New Orleans when arrested by a Pinkerton detective. He was sent back to Italy to meet the fate which sooner or later overtakes all noted brigands. Caruso, an infamous Calabrian bandit, was shot by the soldiers, but Ciro and Filippi, each with a dozen murders and as many kidnappings to his credit, still live. Men of this class are so dredged by the ignorant peasantry, over whom they rule, that the latter are afraid to punish them even when the opportunity arises. Thus it is that time after time they are acquitted by a jury in face of the most overwhelming evidence, and thus it is that while most of them meet violent deaths they often fall as victims to the personal jealousy of members of their own band as fitting objects of the law's retribution.

—H. A. Folk came in from The Dalles, Oregon, yesterday. He will be joined tonight or tomorrow by his wife and family here and leave for Vegreville, where Mr. Folk took up a home-head when here two years since.

—The G. T. P. inquiry closed yesterday and the commission left for Winnipeg this morning. The men who were called in from the surveys to give evidence are leaving town for their camps. Mr. Stephens, assistant chief engineer of the G. T. P., who has charge of the G. T. P., remains in town for a few days.

—"My Friend From India" will be put on the boards in Robertson Hall on Friday and Saturday, June 24th and 25th, by the local Operatic and Dramatic Society.

—Calgary Herald: As a result of the inauguration of the new train service promotions have been made. W. Gallagher and J. Chamberlain, from the north line, and R. Dillon from the south line, have been appointed conductors on the main line. On the north line W. Tony and Fred Lance will succeed Messrs. Gallagher and Chamberlain, while William Thompson becomes a conductor on the south line.

—Crag and Canyon: Two hybrid buffalo cows arrived from Boyd's ranch, Bobcaygeon, last week. The animals are as large as old St. Donald, and almost black in color, and occupy one of the newly fenced corrals. Even more interesting than the buffalo, are four Persian sheep, imported from Persia, which arrived on the same train as the buffalo. The most striking feature about the sheep are their tails, which are tremendous in size in proportion to the size of the animal. The tails are a mass of fat, on which, if necessary, the animals can exist for a number of days. In movements this sheep is as quick as a deer and very pretty and interesting to watch.
